(a) whether it is a fact that Kelkar Committee did not recommend price control for Oxyphenylbutazone, and Phenylbutazone despite the fact that these drugs do not fulfil any exclusion criteria on the ground that these drugs will be withdrawn shortly by Government for human consumption;

(b) whether it is also a fact that the expert Committee commented in the supplementary report submitted in October, 1988 that these drugs are hazardous and dangerous;

(c) whether it is also a fact that the sales of these drugs are growing fast due to price decontrol; and

(d) if so, what steps have been taken by his Ministry to discourage the promotion and sale till they are actually withdrawn?

THE MINISTER OF PETROLEUM AND CHEMICALS (SHRI M. S. GURUPADASWAMY): (a) and (b) Yes Sir.

(c) and (d) Volume of sales of drugs is not related to price control|decontrol. In fact decontrol normally results in higher prices and consequently sales should decrease. So long the drugs are not banned their sales cannot be controlled.
